Do I Qualify for the Homestead Exemption?

If the statements 1, 2 and 3 below are true, you qualify to receive the Homestead Exemption.

1. You hold complete fee simple title or life estate to your primary residence. The Homestead Exemption is a complete exemption of taxes on the first $50,000 in Fair Market Value of your Legal Residence for homeowners over age 65, totally and permanently disabled, or legally blind. In 2007, legislation was passed that completely exempts from your tax bill all taxes levied for school operating purposes on the value of your legal residence. The Homestead Exemption credit continues to completely exempt the value of $50,000 for all purposes except for school operating purposes (already exempted by the new 2007 legislation).
2. As of December 31 preceding the tax year of the exemption, you were a legal resident of South Carolina for one calendar year.
3. As of December 31 preceding the tax year of the exemption, you: were 65 years of age, or were declared totally and permanently disabled by a state or federal agency having the authority to make such a declaration, or are legally blind as certified by a licensed ophthalmologist.

Does a surviving spouse receive the Homestead Exemption benefit?

Do I need to re-apply annually?
